“U.S.-Japan Business and Community Partnerships: Practical Insights for Tomorrow’s Global Leaders”

April 5 – 8, 2018 | Hotel Indigo | Los Angeles, California

TOMO
DACHI

ABOUT

This regional conference brings together students with personal, academic and/or professional interests in U.S.-Japan relations. This four-day conference focuses on broadening participants’ understanding of U.S.-Japan relations, sharing leadership lessons, and imparting skills to help prepare them for global careers. In trainings and workshops, students will build cross-cultural networking skills and explore leadership values, learn about career opportunities from leaders representing a variety of sectors, and meet like-minded peers from the West Coast and Hawaii.

COST - ALL EXPENSES PAID!

Transportation to and from the conference site, accommodation, and meals during the conference will be provided free of cost to all participants.

ELIGIBILITY

Attendees must be American or Japanese undergraduate/graduate students attending a college/university in and around major west coast cities (Seattle, Portland, Los Angeles) and the islands of Hawaii (Honolulu and Hilo).

In addition, applicants can be:

- from any class year or major field of study (those studying U.S.- Japan relations or similar topics are strongly encouraged to apply)
- passionate about contributing to and strengthening U.S.- Japan relations
- interested in networking and career-building opportunities with diverse students and international leaders
